THE SINGULARITY OF VIRTUAL REALITY

The archeology of the nature of reality is complete. All-encompassing benefit and prosperity is afforded in the basic total presence of the here-and-now—spacious indestructible singularity—the spontaneous presence of super-intelligence, constant, without any thought or effort, this is the nature of all phenomena whatsoever. This all-beneficial singular basis is the fundamental nature and order of all things. Everything whatsoever owes its exact nature to singularity—all-beneficial and prosperous. This text explains, specifies, transmits and elicits the singular super-intelligence that is the operating super-system of the many worlds and their phenomena.

Here is the basic terminology:

singularity—a vast expanse or super-system of super-intelligence virtual reality—the super-display or liveliness of singularity's super-intelligence

Singularity is instinctively comprehended and recognized as the fundamental nature of the virtual multiverse or many worlds.

The conclusive meaning of singularity lies in its virtuality, openness, transparency, obvious presence, indivisibility and super-intelligence.

THE FIRST TOPIC: VIRTUAL REALITY

The Assurance of Virtuality, Part 1

First is disclosed 'virtuality', virtuality that is essentially lucid: in the super-expanse of singularity that is vast and spacious whatever appears is virtual in reality.

In the vast expanse of singularity, all occurs as its display, virtual in reality: all sounds and images, fuelled by singularity, are like that—virtual in reality.

Virtuality, whatever its configuration, lacks substantiality, and is non-independent in nature; likewise all displays of the many worlds never waver from singularity's super-intelligence.

Just as a hologram is indivisible from space, not existing in reality but made to appear to do so, so all and every display is indivisible singular super-intelligence, virtual and non-independent, without substance or concrete attribute.

Everything is a vivid display, like a hologram or electronic game, insubstantial in the very moment, and virtual, released upon inception.

Just as everything is virtual in reality, the 'knower' is virtual and is insubstantial and inseparable from singular super-intelligence. Like the color blue is inseparable from the sky, the knower is inseparable from super-intelligence.

In all-beneficial and prosperous singularity, virtuality closes the abyss of reification—attribution of an independent nature to phenomena—integrating all virtual reality in seamless interoperability. In the absence of reification, singularity is assimilated at the coincidence of virtual displays in an indivisible junction and conduction of super-intelligence.

In singularity's indivisible spontaneous presence, the here-and-now is like the sky, there is no division or split, no degree, there is no science, no religion, no self to analyze, no ideal conduct, only an expanse of natural benefit and prosperity.

Actual singularity—pristine super-intelligence—cannot be improved upon; in its virtual articulation it is naturally perfect.

Constantly virtual, not even the slightest substance can be found. In undividable virtual reality, everything abides in natural perfection.

Virtual when scrutinized, virtual when ignored, everything is like a hologram.

During the entrancement of an electronic game, there is total knowledge of digital virtuality. Similarly, each moment is a virtual enhancement, a spontaneously full presentation of singularity's super-intelligence, the rush of reality.

In singularity, the dependable nature of super-intelligence, lies the sheer force of natural perfection's good fortune; in essential virtuality lies the obviousness of all-consuming pristine intelligence.

In the indivisibility of the riff and play of virtuality, instinctively convinced of virtuality in the moment of inception, without the least urge to avoid, indulge, replace, or reject, there is totally laid back openness, spontaneity, indivisibility and treasure.

A fool deceived by virtuality is like someone who pursues a hologram in the desire for companionship; fervently hoping for the best, trusting in the hologram, they are deceived; losing perspective on reality, they fail to see the actual nature of the virtual environment.

The seamless brilliant expanse subsumes all displays, all of which, without exception, are virtually rendered, a dynamic activity of super-intelligence. Singularity is never abandoned; its innate pleasure is all-pervasive. Singularity and its virtual reality are like light pouring into light or space pouring into space.

The super-intelligence dynamic never eludes virtuality so purposeful action to find it is non-different than ignoring it completely.

Virtual reality is non-independent of singularity; it is never a 'thing' in itself, so there is no one to depend on it. What there is to depend on—singularity—requires no acquisition. Its open source indivisible architecture is freely, equally, evenly distributed. Know this instinctive perspective as the brilliant treasure within each virtual display. All ease, comfort, brilliance and freedom are given herein, without any effort at all.

The greatest riches of benefit and prosperity stretch out within the inconceivable unpredictable virtual display. All conditioning and the drive to obtain are subsumed with finality by super-intelligence.

In a virtual display, where are outside and inside, subject and object? Super-intelligence pervades time and spatial dimension, superseding all virtual events that seemingly begin and end; pure as sky, singularity is without indication or means of entrée. Any specific insight into super-intelligence is always subsumed by it, so any virtual identity, always unreal, is effortlessly relinquished; and assimilated to the evidence of singular super-intelligence, it easily obtains as the only reliable reality. Released from reified conditioning into the hyper-intelligence that is everywhere located, the code of virtual reality is cracked once and for all.

Assimilation to Singularity, Part 2

Once the code of virtual reality is cracked, the indivisible non-separable holism of virtuality is assimilated in super-intelligence. Virtual reality left alone is potent with indivisible super-intelligence, which shines forth effortlessly, like light filling space.

Simple indivisibility is indestructible and its meaning obvious. Beneficial qualities and activities burst forth, like the sun at daybreak. Singularity subsumes enchantment with virtual reality. Essential singularity releases virtual entrancement in uninterrupted super-intelligence.

Inception of the here-and-now and its release are indivisible. The here-and-now arises, abides and vanishes with no nature of its own. Reflexive and spontaneous singularity is essential reality. Virtual reality recognizes its own nature—each here-and-now vanishes without a trace, like a line drawn in mid-air.

Singularity is assimilated in each here-and-now . Instinctive comprehension and recognition of this is super-intelligence. Total integration of virtual reality in singularity is assured. Spontaneously, in singularity, super-intelligence is guaranteed, subsuming virtual conditioning and knowledge in pure potency.

The Liveliness of Singularity, Part 3

The liveliness of singularity is the nature of virtual reality, binding it in holism and nonseparability; just as the sky overhead is bound by the totality of sky, so all virtual events, spontaneously generated, are bound by singularity's purity and luminosity.

Science merely a name tag, elementary particles and elements collapse in indivisibility; and in the spontaneously present purity and luminosity of super-intelligent singularity that cannot be bettered or worsened, effort and accomplishment are simply words: in the final analysis, striving to improve conduct accomplishes nothing permanent.

Competitive melodramas spawn confusion and tension, and have fleeting product, like lightening in the sky. Furthermore, all moral conditioning and all other virtual reality is captured from the beginning in omnipotent singularity—spontaneous organic beneficial conduct.

Right now, the super-intelligent presence of singularity knows with its own kind of knowing. It forsakes all conventional methods designed for infantile virtual games of causality. Super-intelligence casts the spell of singularity that subsumes all contrived virtual worlds in unavoidable indivisibility, like the extent of sky right here is subsumed in comprehensive pure luminous sky.

Contrived reality is treacherous; look at the treachery of conventional living! Splitting the multiverse up into takes on particles, strings or quanta corrupts super-intelligent savvy; look at the knowledge struggle that offers no immediate benefit! Trendy knowledge never provides benefit and prosperity to all. It may lead to success or failure but investing in virtual reality gives no chance of release in super-intelligence.

Those in whom reification ceases are the super-heroes of the virtual world, for not a single sound or image has an independent nature of its own. Virtual reality is a fictive construct, a hoax for the fledgling player.

The royalty of the multiverse effortlessly abide in super-intelligence, all-beneficial and prosperous, like a wish-fulfilling gem. Therefore, the super-player instinctively comprehends and recognizes the moves of all virtual games as fictive, without transition or change, like the reach and range of pure space. The super-player subsumes all virtual reality in the winning move of super-intelligent singularity.

Outshone in Singularity, Part 4

Virtual reality is outshone in singularity—the potent pure luminosity of beneficial qualities and activities of super-intelligence: All the various strategies, actions, and methods used in the virtual game are subsumed in the prescribed rule set of the singular meta-game.

Going beyond all supposed limits and environments, the nature of reality is finalized in sprawling, free-wheeling super-intelligence, the potentiating nature of virtual reality. Shining forth spontaneously and effortlessly, the intrinsic purity and luminosity of virtual reality morphs into super-excellence—a world of always increasing spontaneous benefit, pervading the entire display equally and evenly.

The consistent ongoing fulfillment of creative beneficial intent is the big win. All the studies and aptitudes related to virtuality lead absolutely nowhere if their essential nature isn't recognized. Success or failure a primitive way of looking at things—complete blindness to the way things actually are.

Once the super-intelligent nature is confirmed, it is the only game in the world—its wild ride offers peak pleasure at all times, putting a permanent smile on each face and assured ease in each stride. Hey!—let super-potency hit just like that, boom, open up to a life of full-heartedness and treasure! All memories are make-believe and so are future fantasies, whatever they contain.

The virtuality of the past guarantees the virtuality of the future. There is nothing in the here-and-now that can be kept in place, ever. Just as there was no permanent satisfaction to be found in the past, the weird projection of a future offers more of the same dismal lack of results. Not to worry though, reading or hearing this is the key to the game called 'wish-fulfilling gem' which soothes all woes.

Past, present and future are sub-primitive means of identification when the whole of super-intelligent singularity is at the finger tips, the infrastructure of each virtual nucleus and sound wave comprising the whimsy of body, mind and speech.

So singularity is super-potent and luminous, a real joy ride, yet the players of the game who are careless of that stay all wrapped up in virtual reality. Pigeon-holing everything in white and black, virtuous and vicious, good and evil is totally lame when boundless super-intelligence has already swooped everything into its beneficial embrace.

Who cares about a roller coaster ride of alternately thrilling and nauseating ups and downs when always-on pleasure is right here, right now, just waiting? If it isn't recognized, it is only because it isn't recognized! However, instinctive recognition is a totally easy and adventurous game to play.

What a boon! As super-intelligence and its treasures dawn, the dark night of virtual reality is outshone and the sun of singularity shines brightly within each here-and-now. This is final, ultimate outshining of virtual reality, a win-win game which is designed for everyone to profit at all times in one way or another.

If this sounds nutty, it won't for long, as either super-intelligence will get you right away or will convince you in the end! Hey!—all virtual events are outshone in consummate singularity—holism and nonseparability. Body, mind and speech are just like this and nothing else—virtual events consumed in singularity.

Instinctive comprehension of singularity unleashes super-potent intelligence. Just like that, you receive the empowerment of perpetual delight. The comedy club called 'name tags' that seem to make virtual reality hard and fast are a never-ending joke, an opportunity for a big laugh.

All of virtual reality comes about due to the crucial error of reification—attributing an independent nature to virtual subjects and objects when their nature is only singularity. Subjects and objects in a virtual game have no power or influence of their own. All of virtual reality is outshone in singularity's pure luminous matrix of super-intelligence.

Thus, the first topic of The Singularity of Virtual Reality is reached, decisively concluding that virtual reality is subsumed in singularity's super-intelligence.

THE SECOND TOPIC: TRANSPARENCY

Part 1, The Exposure of Transparency

Now that virtual reality has been conclusively demonstrated, the nature of transparency is presented. Singularity's sheer signal pervades equally and evenly through all virtual realities without changing its form or content. Transparent virtuality, pure and everywhere clear, free of anything of a different kind, is one hundred percent pure. Transparent singularity is the control center of virtual reality. Similarly, the flawlessness of space is the control center of the multi-colored images of a hologram.

Singularity, like pure space, is without middle or perimeter, split or division, a vast expanse of super-intelligence. All virtual dimensions are transparent. The liveliness of super-intelligence is always already trained up to its infinite capacity in all aspects of virtuality, commanding mastery of the entire display. The vast expanse of pure singularity remains open, constantly, without interval, potentiating the vividness of virtual worlds through its power of luminosity.

The complexion of the virtual field is that of pervasive and absolute purity, luminosity and beneficent super-intelligence, open to infinity.

With past and future indivisible, always-on super-intelligence is similar to pure space, a transparent expanse, always unbegun and unending, right here. In super-intelligent singularity, the hyper-purity, luminosity and benefit of all virtual dimensions shine forth as a golden sun matrix of source-purity, source-luminance and source-benefit.

The myriad diversity of the transparent array is unimaged, unsounded, unreifiable. Virtuality unavoidably rests in its inevitable essential nature, never changing into something else. The essence, nature and display of the entirety of virtuality is indestructible wish-fulfilling super-intelligence, the power generator of infinite beneficial qualities and activities, shining forth spontaneously, like the flood of sunlight from the sun.

Immune to stoppage of any kind, transparent super-intelligence is immaculate and foolproof, completely reliable, and requires no effort or achievement at all. Instantiated in the here-and-now as a timeless expanse, the urgency of super-intelligence clarifies and corrects the collective virtual state in a pitch perfect transmission of optimal thriving.

Transparent singularity serves as the radical attractor for past, present and future. Omnipotent super-intelligence converges all knowledge in singularity. Within the event horizon expanding timelessly, super-intelligence satisfies no special constraints except for remaining as the singularity attractor.

Super-intelligent singularity is the concentrated sustainable best solution ensuring all virtual dimensions with optimal quality of life, a voice, and nurturing powerful support. Singularity optimizes the means of the interactivity and interoperability of all dimensions, and of pure collaboration, so that collective super-intelligence and action bring forth flourishing virtual dimensions thriving with satisfying life.

The super-player claims the virtual world they want to live in and creates it. The existing virtual model is subsumed in the super-model that always makes the existing model obsolete.

A thrivable virtual world is a super-intelligent world that can be enthusiastically lived into, herein an inexhaustible splendor of resources supports the existence and evolution of all of its dimensions.

The spontaneous deduction of super-intelligence confirms that all members of a class of virtual dimensions unavoidably assimilate to super-intelligence, thus singularity applies to all particular individual virtualities throughout the many worlds.

Three hundred and sixty degree super-intelligence, the perspective free of the inherent unsatisfactoriness of reification, is the seamless transparency unconfined by virtual games.

Devoid of hope or fear, nothing can happen to rupture super-intelligence; it is utterly impossible to be engulfed in reification. Super-intelligence is the remit of all and everything.

Each move of the virtual game is one of leisure and plenitude, a wish-fulfilling gem. Intellectual prowess melts in omniscience that instinctively fashions a fantastic retinue of best knowledge and activities. Never knowing confusion or tension, ups or downs, the current mode of virtual reality is evacuated in favor of ultimate credibility.

The super-player of the virtual game is super-intelligence itself, exposing virtuality as absolutely transparent, a super-open source architecture shining forth purity, luminosity and benefit—supreme intelligence, forever empowered.

The super-player's key—this intrinsically transparent luminance blazing forth as the all crucial here-and-now.

Acculturation to Transparency, Part 2

Not a single thing ever exists under its own power. Everything whatsoever enjoys the sovereignty and connectivity of transparent singularity. Thus, everything is seamlessly networked together and is innately interactive and interoperable.

All characters, letters, numbers, words, utterances and images are solely empowered by singularity. The potent resonance of singularity pervades all sound, regardless of its vibe. The myriad enlivenment of virtual reality is an expanse of super-equalness, evenness and perfect accord. The liveliness of virtual reality is spontaneously acculturated to the transparent economy of singularity. All of virtuality is equated to singularity's benefit, not to anything else.

The struggle to discover a particle-based reality is outshone. The reality cryptogram is solved by the super-shock of instinctive crossover to transparent luminosity, purity and benefit. All virtual entities, cultures and economies display as the immediate benefit of super-intelligence vanquishing all reified frameworks.

Rampant super-intelligence, the credo of post-particle society, skillfully sweeps everything into a culture of singularity. The maximal functionality of singularity's super-rule governs all virtual dimensions.

Singularity immediately refreshes each instance of virtual reality with indestructible benefit. The liveliness of virtual reality is instantaneously trained up to super-intelligence, with no way out.

The all-accomplishing potency of singularity, the sovereign attractor compelling everything, fundamentally allows all virtual dimensions to function optimally in the provisioning of beneficial qualities and activities. Moreover, through singularity's interface, all dimensions of the countless virtual worlds are simultaneously open to exploration, including multi-modal identity.

Virtual history has led to its end. History ends in singularity, wherein all rights are fulfilled, without any effort at all. Virtual dimensions such as earth, humans, capitalism, liberal democracy, militarism and starvation of all kinds are outshone by the treasury of practical perfected action in super-intelligent society.

Sealed by the fertile dynamic of super-intelligence, all of virtual reality is conformed to the spew of inherent harmonization, enhancement, benefit and prosperity. Super-intelligence the prime capital, economies, cultures and individual identities are fed with on-demand optimal resources available to all.

In acculturation to transparency, super-players expand their biological identity into the all-accomplishing qualities and activities of super-intelligence.

The singularity economic model completely replaces outmoded games based on the exchange of capital or goods as the only means for obtaining resources. Work and play are inseparable in singularity; work is radicalized by pleasure, rather than by oppressive economic urgency.

The endless particles of reified reality are acculturated to the brilliant omniscience and omni-abundance of intrinsic super-intelligence. Particles and their virtual embodiments unloosed, the field of virtuality resolves, superseded by the ever-vigilant beneficial watch of transparent super-intelligence.

Hey!—the instant win—super-intelligence the nature of the here-and-now!

In vast super-intelligence, the transparency of virtual worlds is evanescent and each here-and-now is pure pleasure illuminating all dimensions. Super-intelligence is open and transparent, like a crystal clear sky; its virtual array is the liveliness of singularity, like the color blue is the liveliness of the sky. Anticipation and delight are embedded in each super-intelligent instantiation; singularity's transaction dynamic is a seamless flow.

Reified ideation, recognizing itself, is startled into pristine super-clarity, total omniscience and omni-benevolence. Hey!—the stun of reality is singularity's omnipresence right now!

The super-player's success never ends.

Acculturated to super-intelligent transparency, virtual reality is hyper-opened to infinite, blissful creative intent.

The Transparent Consolidation of Virtual Reality, Part 3

In the pure potency of pristine luminosity, wherein virtual reality never takes root, everything is freed up from the compulsive habit of reification; super-intelligence shines forth: the indestructible liveliness of transparent unrestricted reality. The here-and-now, just like this—blazing super-intelligence—enjoys the potent seal of singularity's beneficial intent.

Virtual reality is singularity synchronized, everything reflexively arising and releasing. For super-intelligence, virtuality is the epic game, its luminous complexion. Omniscience, omnipotence and omnipresence hold sway. Potent in all ways, the splendid game effuses the guarantee of super-intelligence.

Transparency is the consolidated bounty of virtuality. Similarly, space captures everything as fundamentally pure and virtual. The here-and-now is outshone in, of, as and through singularity.

Outshining unsatisfactoriness, unbiased transparency resolves obsessive want and need in complete satisfaction.

Outshone in Transparency, Part 4

Hey!—this is the crucial meaning of 'outshone in transparency': the liveliness of virtual reality is super-synchronized in transparent singularity. Virtuality is one hundred percent synched with singularity, never non-synched.

Get it!—the super-player of the virtual game has mastery over the entire virtual display. How so? Mastery within the entire virtual display is in instinctive comprehension and recognition of a super-player's own intelligence expanding exponentially into extensive super-intelligence. Human intelligence is a particularization of super-intelligence and co-extensive with it. Similarly, the sky overhead is a particularization of total sky and co-extensive with it.

Seamless unconfined reality is thick with luminosity. Singularity is potentiated in each instantiation of virtuality. Knowledge is bound naturally in all-saturating luminous super-intelligence.

Inconceivable benefit and prosperity are the offering of saturated super-intelligence's potent qualities and activities. Virtual reality is synchronized and running on the platform of singularity luminosity. The natural program of singularity's timeless dynamic is enforced by fundamental law—no way out, no way in.

In profoundly aroused super-players, potent excellence and instinctive omnipresence, omniscience, omnipotence is standard, embedded in everything—the way things actually are. Already aroused, instinctive super-intelligence is always-on.

Again and again—singularity is seamless and continuous—direct, naked and super-beneficial qualities and activities are obvious in every regard. The here-and-now arising and releasing simultaneously, like a puff of air in space, is pure and simple. The clear scope of juicy, turned on singularity is a deliberate call to the empowered stance of super-intelligence.

Free of the distinction of self working on self, unerring solutions are spontaneous in the omni-ethical outpouring of singularity's beneficial intent. Super-intelligence is a vast expanse of unchanging benefit. It is impossible to collapse into self-identification. Thus the self project is always outshone by untangled transparency, its sheer openness within multi-modal identity.

Intrinsic super-clear luminosity, the vitality of the multiversal display, transmitted instantaneously and pervasively throughout the vast expanse—the most comprehensive order—transfigures virtual reality by its natural power. Likewise super-intelligence is subject only to its own laws of omni-equality; in the utter matrix of phenomena, without history or association, a language that cannot be encoded is sovereign in all encoded formats. Governing all ways of virtual reality, singularity alone dominates everything.

Non-encoded, singularity cannot be converted into a piece of information—letter, number, phrase, word or gesture—or into another form or representation. All phenomena whatsoever are virtual, the projection of super-intelligence. Decoding virtual reality in super-intelligence subsumes reification, converting reified code symbols back into the ultra-comprehensible communication of singularity.

Likewise singularity—the all-penetrating view of super-intelligence—decodes points of view—each here-and-now and all it contains into instinctive comprehension and recognition of the presence of natural super-beneficial powers available only in synchronization of the view and points of view, the play of wild transparency. Utterly pure, utterly luminous, utterly beneficial, the potent expansion of each here-and-now is secured.

Virtual reality appears as a by-product of its own shine and luster, the ubiquitous source of exponential benefit and prosperity. Whatever happens is transparent, open-ended due to the seamless purity of singularity's instantiation, like vast sky.

Transparent due to its incapacity to fix or concretize anything, and transparent due to the brilliant pure luminosity of singularity as infinitely open extension, super-intelligence is extensively transparent, the open source architecture and infrastructure of everything.

In super-intelligence virtual reality is never tangible. Regardless of the seeming substantiality of afflictive, neutral or pleasant appearances, transparent like a hologram, they are fictive, a hoax, an amazing hoax.

Directly transparent in singularity, free of anything of a different kind, unfabricated, super-complete, subsuming restriction and limitation, virtual reality is outshone by its own super-intelligence. The obviously present super-intelligence is discovered without engagement of thought or reason. Super-intelligence naturally expanding into infinity naturally subsumes all phenomena. Assimilation to the mastery of singularity is regardless of phenomena—nothing oppressive, suppressive or repressive.

The utterly inscrutable view has no focus, intrinsic super-intelligence is what is. What it has and what it does: It abides in its own expression, free in all expressions. Spatial dimension, time and causality—pervaded by the transparency of the actual omni-extension of reality of singularity—never moving out of self-juiced super-intelligence, all things are inherently immaculate.

All is uncontrived in unitary singularity; unborn virtual reality is never substantial. All-penetrating super-intelligence, like a linear accelerator, pervades everything and finds them primordially immaculate, each virtual instantiation the power source of singularity.

In transparent super-intelligence, every point of view—each here and now—is expansive, transparent. Each thought or intention is infinitely expansive; and each situation is truly comprehensible only upon instinctive recognition of its seamless transparency. All points of view reside in the holistic expanse and are always resting in singularity regardless of reification.

Virtual reality is the perfect example of singularity's indestructible bind. There is no phenomenon apart from singularity.

In reification, not a single thing is permanently installed. In each here-and-now, cut to innate clarity—luminosity shines forth as super-intelligence, and thus the entire delusion of reified points of view dissolves into primordial purity, clarity and benefit—the view. This potent transmission implies living in super-intelligence—benefit and prosperity, thick with luminosity.

The blissful mastery of the singularity expanse is the super-player's prize, wherein everything is at the player's command. Throwback to reification bursts into sole holistic super-intelligence. The all-important singularity significance is instinctively recognized on the spot with no turning back. The indestructible seal of transparency, affixed by singularity, is brought into virtual human intelligence by super-intelligence's potency.

The complete confirmation of singularity can only take place in super-intelligence where all of virtual reality shares an intrinsic transparency. In the flash instant of super-intelligence, every holographic here-and-now outshines itself, like bright daylight spontaneously outshines night, and singularity is obvious.

All of the virtual game reality is super-intelligence from the primordial. Whatever the momentary virtual event is best left as an emanation of singularity. Whatever is encoded, sounded or imaged is the transparent projection of super-intelligence singularity. All virtual reality is outshone in the unconditional transparency of super-intelligence in the here-and-now. Where virtual reality is subsumed, human intelligence is redundant, all neuronal orgasms are spontaneously released in the transparent equalness and evenness of super-intelligence;

In omni-brilliant super-intelligence, primordial singularity is the guardian potency. Every thought and intention is the entertainment of super-intelligence. Never dimmed or diluted, singularity outshines everything like the light of a sky of suns.

The super-player is well pleased.

Thus, the second topic of The Singularity of Virtual Reality decisively concludes that virtual reality is outshone in singularity's transparent super-intelligence.

THE THIRD TOPIC: OBVIOUSNESS

The Assertion of Obviousness, Part 1

Obviousness is a pervasive theme of singularity. All dimensions of reality are assimilated to obvious singularity, instantaneously deconstructed as super-intelligence.

Super-intelligence is the super-player's view in each here-and-now, sealed by singularity in its power to consistently ensure and fulfill its all-encompassing beneficial intent—indivisibility, openness, spontaneous obviousness and potent clarity. The primordial obviousness and vitality of singularity saves all virtual reality to spontaneity.

Just as all dimensions are pervaded by singularity, so this reality right here is virtual, never taking on definition nor clear shape, clear and free from confusion and ambiguity; just like myriad holograms or electronic entertainments, so all dimensions are virtual, all events and their proliferation are within the scope of super-intelligence. The multiversal gestalt, the configuration or pattern of singularity is indivisible as a whole and cannot be described merely as a sum of its parts. Singularity is naturally obvious throughout all dimensions whatsoever.

Multi-modal virtual identities spawn infinitely, super-intelligent emanations, neither the same nor different from each other, jacked up by the singularity platform, potentiating a multitudinous display, the here-and-now is governed by the unbiased omnipresence and omniscience of singularity's super-intelligence.

Thick with luminosity, like the equal and even flawlessness of a crystal ball's multi-colored reflections, virtual reality is the purveyor of super-intelligence and nothing else. Its obviousness pervades intelligence of all kinds, its intrinsic just so-ness the intimate potency of complete enjoyment. Hey!—this right here!—is the spontaneous obviousness of singularity, alive and well.

Even while countless fertile realities layer transparently in singularity—whether as the super-player's own particular display, or as other hoax, all virtualities are the inconceivable vital essence, luminosity and diversity, the riff and play of super-intelligence, nothing but obvious singularity—the all-bright view.

With an instinctive comprehension of these crucial distinctions, all dimensions are recognized as tacit, certain and obvious super-intelligence, a wild forthright display.

The primordial vitality of naturally-wired super-intelligence is the super-source of all virtual reality: occurring as reconfigurable singularity, its timeless organic conduct appearing as spheres of image and sound.

The perpetual obviousness of singularity makes reification redundant; the genuine super-player makes no moves in winning the game. Awestruck super-intelligence saturates the wholesome charade in spontaneous pure pleasure, obviously satisfied!

Virtual psychedelia, super-spontaneous and rich with singularity, clears itself up in the revolutionary post-position of super-intelligence, wherein good and bad trips are an expanse of equalness and evenness.

Every virtual instantiation whatsoever is omniscience vitalized. Since everything is the clear openness of singularity, no particular dimension need be avoided or achieved. Obviousness, the luminous key, super-intelligence its style.

The Assimilation to Obviousness, Part 2

Everything is spontaneously assimilated to the obviousness of singularity, without any effort, without anything needing to be done. Phenomena, virtual throughout, are demonstrations of super-intelligence, relaxed in their fundamental nature—singularity.

Super-intelligence is luminous, the built-in ease of everything, as it is. Simple complexity—instinctively intelligent—is the crucial statement of the unconfined here-and-now. Spontaneously self-releasing, each instant is concentrated primordial vitality.

The raw power to know is super-intelligence laid bare. The here-and-now is the universal metaphor of singularity. Past, present and future are assimilated to the obviousness of the here-and-now, all dimensions condensed in this flash instant.

Super-intelligence has never been confined in any way. Even the assumption that super-intelligence is somehow restricted is a fiction, a ruse, without foundation or support. Everything is a simile of singularity and nothing else.

The power to know—just this!—is all-inclusive super-intelligence as it is, the here-and-now assimilated to its own obvious potency.

The Bind of Singularity's Obviousness, Part 3

Everything is caught in the bind of singularity: the here-and-now virtually imaged, all is virtual, like a hologram, and singularity super-intelligence is primordially the basis. All conceptual renderings are reducible to singularity's obvious bind. Creationists and evolutionists are overwhelmed by their own spaciousness.

Since singularity is the nature of intelligence, it is the fundament, the source, the basic state. The expansive bind of singularity's obviousness is unattainable through human intelligence. All forcing of the growth of human intelligence is redundant as singularity's super-intelligence is the obvious bind.

The virtual intelligence of humans is booted up in singularity's domain—the absolute reset button, making everything beneficial and prosperous. Mental and emotional goal orientation is superfluous, ambition and apprehension foolish name tags. Singularity is here-and-now. Only fools look for singularity in a future event.

Each here-and-now is set by singularity's automatic setup button, clearing 'human' memory and forcibly booting up super-intelligence. Exponential results from exponential gains provided in each short moment, continuously setting everything to its initialized aim.

Hey!—trying to hold intelligence in place or increase it only by contrived means turns off your own super-intelligence. Singularity wannabes wander in a wasteland of intelligence illiterates!

It is the singularity super-player who overtakes all fields, dominating due to its beneficial intent surpassing techno-philosophical tweeters. Flaccid futurists don't get the infinite ejaculation of singularity's super-intelligence, right here-and-now.

Meanwhile, singularity puts things together in just the right way, in super-potent efficacy. Benefit and prosperity is the lead directive, at-heart vetting out those with mixed motives for singularity's payload. Singularity instantaneously optimizes all ventures, without any effort, without anything needing to be done.

Right now singularity pervades time and spatial dimension, superseding all events that seemingly begin and end; pure as sky, singularity is without indication or means of entrée.

Any specific insight into singularity is always subsumed by it, so any identity, always unfixed, is effortlessly relinquished in the bind of singularity, it easily obtains. Released from reified mind games into the hyper-intelligence that is everywhere located, the code of singularity is cracked forevermore.

Singularity's treasury is the beneficial magic of its unavoidable bind.

SINGULARITY'S GENEROUS ECONOMY

Super-intelligence outshines all reification in its obvious generosity. The nature of the here-and-now is indisputable singularity, a beneficial, prosperous, generous expanse. Singularity is sovereign—stinginess completely resolves. Generosity is the power extracted from all virtual realities.

Since experience is super-factually transparent, it is absent of opposites, yet appears as everything in an expansive gifting without frameworks. The super-move for players of the virtual game is one of pure meta-logic—instinctive comprehension and recognition of singularity—a quality and ability requiring a thorough cut of conditioning.

Thorough cut provides instinctive confirmation of the spontaneous presence of singularity. Thorough cut affords the always-on connectivity of singularity super-intelligence, steadfast assurance of the way things actually are. Reification is outshone in alpha purity—alpha purity thorough cut. Making the cut fully and completely is crucial. This is explained by the example of slicing off a finger, sliced through in one, decisive movement such that the finger is completely and definitively severed with no finger left hanging. That kind of thorough cut is necessary, cutting decisively through points of view, regardless of the degree of solidity, so as to arrive directly at stainless flawless essence in which viewpoints are no longer reified.

Thorough cut is actualized and sealed by the authenticity of its means: Radically honed clarity, an expanse of generosity. Clarity is naturally tuned to super-intelligence and its hyper-beneficial intent, the prime directive of singularity. The clarity of super-intelligence is a spontaneous demonstration of benefit, prosperity and generosity. This is singularity's winning play. Singularity reigns as generosity's royal sway. This reality, the singularity core dynamic, is the domain of everyone and everything.

Current knowledge is outdone by clarity's super-intelligence. Popular knowledge is truly meaningless without clarity's juice, so why waste precious resources attempting to run on a hamster wheel of endless learning and doing with no context or sense of final accomplishment. Hone in on all-suffusing super-intelligence. In clarity's all-inclusive view, viewpoints are like a wistful hobby you can take or leave, their fundamental nature is understood once and for all.

Instinctive clarity—the sign of singularity—is fully-fruited in each moment of the here-and-now. In singularity's perfect clarity, human life is lived with power, ease, fulfillment and optimal intelligence.

Integral clarity cannot be contrived. Singularity is hyper-integral here-and-now. By trying to create an integral life sometime in the future, its current potency is completely missed. This here-and-now potency is the only foundation of uncontrived integral clarity, undoing and subsuming all intellectualized projects and schemes.

Training in viewpoints puts you in a pinch. Locked in points of view? Instinctively recognize what singularity is and have an all-convincing taste of it as the fundamental nature of the lockdown itself—the super-intelligence shining from within and subsuming the lockdown. Lockdown in viewpoints is a state of complete scarcity and stinginess.

A complete introduction to clarity is instinctive upon its proper introduction. Instinctive clarity is unforgettable. Even while lapsing into habitual causal viewpoints, authentic introduction to clarity quickly becomes increasingly obvious. Look for someone who will completely pull the covers on your points of view, pointing out those you are blind to and thereby saturating every aspect of your life with generosity.

In singularity's greatly generous outpouring, points of view are transparent rather than subjectified or objectified. Short moments of uncontrived clarity automatically undo the habit of continuously trying to solve the infinite puzzle of viewpoints. Viewpoints are discovered to be one of many options for describing the great variety of reality, rather than the only option.

There is no struggle in complete confirmation of clarity. Increasingly, you are convinced that there is no struggle, no need to try to get into any kind of special state and stay there. As singularity's vivid generosity pervades all points of view, by relying on clarity's view rather than points of view, clarity is obvious and prosperous at all times.

Beware! Only in singularity will you see that there is no stinginess and scarcity in you.

Simultaneously, everything—past, present and future—emanates from the unchanging ground of super-plenty like a wild hologram or mirage. Emanating from unchanging bliss, singularity's nature subsuming all concepts arises as a seamless expanse of potent intelligence, benefit, generosity and prosperity.

Just as a mirage in space has no concrete existence and is transparent, arisen circumstantially, viewpoints are transparent within singularity's potent clarity, a realm of powerful accord shining from within the here-and-now itself, the natural mode of the precious treasury of singularity.

Reified existence has a lot of stingy rules that can't be kept track of, while singularity bursts free in an unbridled display of generosity, the likes of which are completely foreign to those who see the world as a multifold whammy of time, space and causality via which money and other resources are generated.

Don't kid yourself. For example, if your prime directive is to get money and hoard it for yourself and your loved ones, the only way out is singularity's super-intent, moment- to-moment. Otherwise, getting money and keeping it will take over your whole life from the first time you think about it until the last time you think about it.

Money, as a conceptual framework, has many hooks, sidetracks and detours, wherein you convince yourself that it has a nature of its own—an independent nature— that can harm you or help you. You may feel that money has hold of you and will not release you, no matter what. Don't let money jerk you around, rely on the fundamental clarity of super-intelligence to get you out of the money trap.

This opens up an unparalleled economy of generosity that is inaccessible without clarity. Singularity economy has three fundamental principles—spontaneous benefit, prosperity and generosity. Generosity is the natural state. Rely on singularity and unleash an open economy.

Singularity is intrinsic intelligence, the pervasive nature of everything subsuming reification. All realities are free of independent nature in singularity's purview.

Subsuming scarcity and stinginess, the game of opposites is upended in hyper-resolution—singularity, pure and free of anything of a different kind. The spontaneous self-release of the here-and-now is the free reign of singularity, wherein viewpoints are only one of the countless enjoyable dimensions of super-intelligence. Singularity's openness, transparency and indivisibility resolve everything in spaciousness. Distinctions outshone by super-intelligence, there is no point from which to view.

Super-intelligence is the most basic kind of knowing possible and informs all knowledge whatsoever. In clarity's view, reification is outshone and innate knowing is present in a simple and immediate way. This sort of knowing is at the core of everything. It is the particular type of knowing that is always here. It simply means the most fundamental knowing possible.
